EDUCATION

MPhil in Economics
Jawaharlal Nehru University

2014 — 2017

MPhil Thesis: "An Analysis of Transmission of International Price on Domestic Price of Rice and Wheat in India"

Dissertation done under Dr. Surajit Das. The study assessed the extent of integration using wholesale price series and the existence of Asymmetric Price Transmission.

Education: "Secondary Education and Economic Growth"

Term paper submitted to Prof. Ashok. This paper analyzed the relationship between human capital and economic growth in Indian states using panel data regression for the period between 2001 and 2011. This paper mainly follows the augmented Solow growth model equation derived by Mankiw et al (1992) to analyze the relationship between secondary education and economic growth.

Econometrics: "Growth-Savings-Investment: Long Run, Short Run and Causal Relationship"

Term paper submitted to Dr. Surajit Das. The study was conducted to establish the long run, short run, and causal relationship between savings, investment, and growth in India. The evidence of empirical relationship is a vital factor for formulating macroeconomic policies. Although we found strong cointegration between these series, evidence of a uni-directional causal relationship suggests savings led growth and investments led growth in the country.

MSc in Economics and Econometrics
University of Nottingham, UK

2012 — 2013

MSc Dissertation: "Wheat Market Integration in India: Analysis at the regional and the zonal level"

Dissertation done under Prof. Tim Llyod, in which we evaluated the extent of integration and concluded that even though the markets are spatially separated, there exists a long run co-integration.

Project done under Prof. Sourafel Girma. The study concluded that there exists sensitivity but changes according to firm characteristics.
