About the Programme

The objective of the 3-Days Online Faculty Development Programme (FDP) on Understanding the Nuances of Sponsored Research Projects is to encourage the faculty members to procure sponsored research projects from various government and non-government agencies, in the areas of their expertise, to help them take-up independent research projects in future. The programme has been designed to cover the nuances of the research projects from: identifying a suitable project topic, preparing the research proposal, identifying suitable funding agencies to applying for the grant and executing the same after the project is approved. This FDP also seeks to narrow the gap between the academic research and real world applied research that can offer potential for industry interface. The interdisciplinary nature of this FDP has takeaways for all faculties whether from commerce, management, social science or science. This FDP is an excellent opportunity for faculty members from diverse subject areas to learn from accomplished experts who have immense exposure of getting and executing the sponsored research projects successfully.
