HANSRAJ COLLEGE

Hansraj College, University of Delhi is a premier higher education institute of India. Established in 1948, over its glorious journey spanning 75 years, the College has remained committed to Indian ethos and knowledge systems while providing quality global education to all. At Hansraj College, we groom our students to not just excel in the field of academics but also prepare them to face the future challenges that lie ahead in their lives. The College regularly conducts several extension activities, talks, seminars, etc. with an aim to provide holistic education to its students.

Hansraj College offers rigorous academic courses in Arts, Science and Commerce. The college has an illustrious list of alumni who have made their mark in various fields and are constantly contributing in the nation building process. The college has constantly featured amongst the top NIRF rankings and has also been accredited with A+ (3.62 score) by NAAC in 2017. From its renowned academic strength to its culture of rigorous research and progressive ideas, Hansraj College has remained at the forefront of academic excellence and moral righteousness. The college has left an indelible imprint in the sphere of academia and constantly endeavours to do so in the future as well.

The year 2022 marks the 75 glorious years of the existence of Hansraj College. To commemorate this historic landmark, the college is holding year-long celebrations wherein several commemorative events are being conducted.

Concept Note

Education for the Future is the type of education that can create a strong foundation for the upliftment of humanity for generations to come. Being the Vishwa Guru, India has a great role to play in it. Our traditional knowledge systems and legacy of foundational truths has been a torch-bearer for not just India but for the entire world. The 21st century is significant in shifting the narrative to India's glory and establishing India as a developed country in the world. Today, it is imperative to work on various aspects intensely and with a balanced and a farsighted approach. In this regard, education sector plays a crucial role. From the perspective of human resource development, it is extremely important to stay updated and engage rigorously on the various aspects of our education system. The foundation of India's vibrant and glorious future will be surely paved by this.

We have received our beloved country Bharat from our ancestors, and it is our responsibility to hand it over to our next generation, thereby creating a more sustainable future for posterity. This is the time to work rigorously for it. The youth and the students are the future of India. We expect from them to create a new India where the feelings of morality, empathy, liberality and community are present. We expect from them an India replete with bliss and happiness and where no one lives in a state of poverty and where the feeling of 'National Interest' guides the personal and communal interests of everyone.

As we are all aware, several concerted efforts are being made through the National Education Policy (NEP) and various other means to bring about some foundational changes and improvements in the education sector in India. The education system is going to develop to cater to the needs of the future and the changing times. In this context the National Education Conclave that is being organised will deliberate on the various aspects related to the education sector in India. The Conclave will be significant in bringing about new directions, new trends and new perspectives in the field of education in India. The Conclave will act as a milestone and a torch bearer towards providing extensive, multifaceted, intense, balanced and creative directions to fulfil the newly emerging needs of the future India.

The proposed National Education Conclave would bring together more than 50 reputed and esteemed scholars and domain experts who will discuss, deliberate and disseminate their philosophy, ideas and experiences on various aspects of education system which will ultimately act as the guiding light for the future of education sector in India. The Conclave will interrogate those ideas and formulas that will shape the future generations and will act as a source of inspiration for a strong and resilient workforce dedicated to nation building and guided by strong moral values. Various prominent and experienced dignitaries from the field of academia are invited in this Conclave. The audience will be enlightened with emerging knowledge, extensive research and novel ideas. The Conclave will focus specifically on the field of higher education in India.

Rigorously researched and scholarly research papers will be presented on various aspects of higher education, viz. Indian Knowledge Systems, National Education Policy, Indian Languages, Skill Development & Entrepreneurship, Digital & Online Education, Regulatory Bodies of Higher Education, Role of Private Universities in Higher Education, Skill Management & Leadership Development, Industry-Public Collaboration in Higher Education, Globalisation of Higher Education, Future of Higher Education and its Challenges, etc.
