Convenor of the Department/Society: Dr. Parul Pant, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, Hansraj College

Description of the event -

On the auspicious occasion of children's day, 14th november, we were blessed with the presence of revered Swami Shantatmananda ji who enlightened us by speaking on the topic, the greatest philosophical question ever, "Who Am I?". Students and Faculty members from various colleges of Delhi University attended the event. Swami ji covered all the religious, spiritual, philosophical and practical undertones of the interrogative topic and made the listeners dive deeper by questioning the very existence of reality. It was an insightful and eye opening session for all the listeners. Following the tradition of always being a seeker, members from the audience asked questions after Swami ji presented his thoughts, to quench their desire for knowledge. The event was concluded by a vote of thanks and a humble speech by our convenor .
