NAAC ACCREDITED 'A++' GRADE COLLEGE

2025-2026

Date of the Event : 19th November 2025

Organised by : Nishtha - The Civil Services Society of Hansraj College

Venue - Room 103 at B block, Hansraj College

ABOUT THE EVENT:

The Civil Services Society of Hansraj College, Nishtha, organized the episode 3 of “Manthan: Nishtha's Group Discussion Session” on 19th November 2025, between 3 and 4 PM in the Room 103 at B Block, Hansraj College. The session aimed to help society members strengthen their understanding of key current affairs and enhance their analytical skills for civil services preparation. Centred around the theme “Navigating Geopolitical Flux,” the event comprised two main components – an opening address on the theme delivered by the President of Nishtha, Mr. Laksh Ramawat, followed by a guided group discussion where members explored the theme, shared insights, and analysed the topic together.

Following the introduction, the discussion focused on how fast global situations are changing and how countries are trying to adjust. Members talked about recent geopolitical issues such as the rising trade tensions between the US and China, India's stand on tariff pressures, and the growing importance of resources like lithium for future technologies. The group also discussed how changes in agriculture policies, migration to the Middle East, and the role of remittances are shaping the economies of many countries. Examples like oil politics in the Gulf and the way some nations depend on foreign workers helped everyone understand how deeply connected global events have become.

The conversation then moved to the role of international organisations. Participants pointed out that the United Nations is losing some trust because major powers often act in their own interest. In this vacuum, groups like BRICS, ASEAN, and the G20 are rising in importance and may become strong alternatives if they expand and work together more closely. However, members also agreed that replacing or fully reforming the UN is difficult, as powerful countries resist any major changes that reduce their influence. Still, strengthening regional groups and improving cooperation can help countries manage global challenges more effectively.

In the final part of the session, everyone agreed that the world cannot return to what it was after World War II, as economies and power relations have changed completely. Nations must now focus on building stable partnerships, securing critical resources, and adapting their policies to stay strong in this fast-changing environment. The discussion ended with the shared belief that understanding these geopolitical shifts and talking about them openly is essential for preparing the next generation of leaders.
