Event Description (About 250 Words)

Ranneeti 2.0, organized by Hult Prize Hansraj, provided a dynamic platform for students to engage in intellectually stimulating competitions that tested their strategic thinking, financial acumen, and problem-solving abilities. This year's edition featured two marquee events—Trade-O-Thon and Gordian Knot—each designed to push participants beyond conventional boundaries and mirror real-world business challenges.

Gordian Knot, the highly anticipated Case Study Competition, attracted an impressive 160+ registrations, bringing together some of the sharpest analytical minds. This segment served as a test of critical thinking, problem-solving, and strategic planning, where teams were challenged to navigate complex business dilemmas. The competition was adjudicated by Mr. Suveer Bajaj and Ms. Sanskriti Pandey, esteemed professionals renowned for their expertise in business strategy and innovation. Their keen insights and valuable feedback helped participants refine their approach to real-world problem-solving.

The second competition, Trade-O-Thon, was a high-intensity Mock Stock Trading Event, designed to simulate the volatility and dynamism of financial markets. Participants engaged in strategic trading, leveraging their market knowledge and risk-assessment skills to maximize returns in a fast-paced, simulated stock exchange environment. The competition aimed to cultivate financial literacy, decision-making under pressure, and a deep understanding of market fluctuations.
