Description: Election Dissection: Amplifying Student Voices in Campus Democracy

Vision – The Media and Publications Society of Hansraj College launched "Election Dissection," a comprehensive two-part media initiative designed to foster political awareness and encourage democratic participation during the 2024 election season.

Phase I: Digital Interview Series

The first phase featured short-form interviews with DUSU election candidates, providing them a platform to articulate their vision and connect with the student body. Distributed primarily through Instagram, the series aimed to break down barriers between candidates and voters, making political discourse accessible and engaging for the digital-native student community. The initiative successfully reached 66,500 viewers, promoting transparency in student politics and encouraging higher voter turnout.

Phase II: Video Podcast Series

Building on this momentum, Vision expanded the format to YouTube with in-depth video podcasts covering Hansraj College elections. The series hosted panel discussions with candidates filing nominations, allowing for nuanced conversations about campus issues, leadership visions, and student concerns. This phase achieved remarkable engagement—surpassing 100,000 views and 88,500 listeners—while actively involving over 1,500 students in meaningful political dialogue.

Through "Election Dissection," Vision demonstrated its commitment to strengthening democratic culture on campus. By creating accessible, engaging content across multiple platforms, the society successfully transformed election coverage from passive information dissemination into active community engagement, reinforcing its role as Hansraj College's leading voice in student media and political discourse.
