Workshop on Plastic Management and Street Play

Rasayanatva, the Chemical Society of Hansraj College and Haritima, the Environmental Awareness Society of Hansraj College in collaboration with Indian Pollution Control Association (IPCA) hosted a Workshop on Plastic Management and a Street Play in the afternoon of Friday, 21st March 2025 in the New Seminar Room.

The event was inaugurated with the welcoming of Mr. Denzil Basil and other IPCA members present, and the workshop was opened with a discussion of the different categories of plastic. It was highlighted that in this current day and age, plastic could simply not be escaped, but there were many problems with how plastic was managed which affected the environment, water and even animals. Mr. Basil then stated the various ways one can start managing plastic waste, and the initiatives IPCA itself has undertaken for the same. This was followed by a question-answer session, which served as food for thought for many. The congregation then proceeded to C Block, where IPCA members conducted a humorous Street Play that showcased how society sometimes was unaware of the ways of disposing of waste sustainably.

The event concluded with the vote of thanks by Garv Jain, President, Rasayanatva and Raj Shekhar, President, Haritima, bringing a fitting close to an outstanding congregation. In conclusion, the event was a resounding success and a seldom-paralleled interaction between scholars and industry professionals.
