2022-2023

Name of the Department/Society: Global Association of Economics Education

Name of the Event: Knowledge and Development Sessions

Date of the event: 14th January'23, 23th January'23, 30th January'23

The Research Department of GAEE Hansraj is pleased to announce the successful culmination of its three in-house Knowledge and Development (K&D) sessions, focusing primarily on the scholarly disciplines of Economics, Finance, and Entrepreneurship. These sessions proved instrumental in stimulating curiosity and interest among students with a fervent passion for these fields.

The inaugural session, held on January 14, 2023, delved into the dynamic domain of derivatives within the stock market. Comprehensive coverage was provided on various types of derivatives, including futures and options. Additionally, the session expounded on other investment instruments such as Mutual Funds and the emerging Exchange-Traded Funds (ETFs). Special attention was given to updating the audience on recent developments in these areas, including pertinent information on government schemes.

The subsequent session, conducted on January 23, 2023, centered on elucidating the key distinctions between Single Payment Later (SNPL) and Buy Now Pay Later (BNPL) payment options. Notably, SNPL enables customers to make a one-time payment for their purchases, while BNPL permits customers to divide payments into smaller installments over time. The session meticulously outlined the advantages and disadvantages of both options, emphasizing the suitability for different types of customers.

The third session, held on January 30, 2023, revolved around the theme of Cryptocurrency. Comprehensive coverage included insights into the evolution and advancements of cryptocurrency in the economy over time. These sessions were integral components of our program, designed to instigate and nurture constructive discussions in the realms of Economics, Finance, and Entrepreneurship.
