The Commerce Society, Hansraj College, commenced its recruitment process for the academic year on 1st August 2025, following the orientation program for first-year commerce students. As part of this process, ComQuest was organised on 11th August to provide an intellectually stimulating challenge that tested participants' analytical abilities, business acumen, and strategic thinking.

This year's ComQuest was structured into three distinct rounds, each conducted by the functional cells of the society. The E-Cell round tested entrepreneurial insight, the MHR round evaluated marketing aptitude and human resource understanding, while the final IFC round assessed financial acumen and problem-solving. From the initial 60 participants, 30 qualified for the second round, six progressed to the final, and ultimately, one candidate secured direct recruitment. The remaining five finalists were advanced directly to personal interviews.

The recruitment drive drew an enthusiastic response, with over 180 applications received. Out of these, 100 candidates were shortlisted for interviews, and following rigorous evaluation, a team of 54 promising individuals was inducted into the society.
