Name of the Department/Society: North-East Cell

Name of the Event 4: Lecture - Question on Family and Gender: Understanding Khasi matriliney

Date of the Event: 28th August 2021

This special lecture was held on the 28th of August 2021 from 4:00 PM IST. The speaker for this session was Prof. Tiplut Nongbri, a renowned sociologist and retired professor from Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU). The family is a dominant social institution with diverse structures and forms. The structure of the family is intricately linked with other structures of society-cultural, economic and political. In matrilineal societies, the line of descent and inheritance passes from the mother to the daughter. Prof. Tiplut Nongbri addressed these complexities and inherent contradictions of Khasi matriliney.
