February 2nd was marked as World Wetlands Day and on this occasion HARITIMA — The Environmental Awareness Society of HansRaj College organized a discussion session which was led by Research Head Jatin and President Karan Suthar. Members of the society were part of this discussion. The main highlight of this discussion was to understand the importance of WETLANDS of which the major area of concern was their protection and restoration which was well explained by the president. Apart from discussion, an eco-friendly banner was also installed at the campus near the garden area in order to spread awareness among people regarding the significance of the Day. The group discussion was really enriching and insightful. We ensure that we come up with more such knowledgeable discussions and events in the near future.
