

Swaranjali – The Music Society of Hansraj College

About the Society: Having a history of 29 years, Swaranjali is one of the oldest and best Music societies across the whole Delhi University and consists of a broad spectrum of music having the Indian Choir, the Western Choir and the Band working together in creating music of a diverse background. Swaranjali is also one of the biggest societies consisting of more than 40 musicians trained in different forms of music.

Swaranjali organizes its annual fest named RACHNOTSAV. Our fest is named after Mrs. Rachna Sharma who guided our society in many ways. In our fest we organize multiple competitions like the Indian Choir, Western Choir and Battle of Bands in group competitions and Indian and western singing competitions in both solo and duet. We also organize Indian instrumental competitions.

Like our motto “HUM HONGE KAMYAAB” we always aspire for excellence and to perform with best of our capabilities at more than forty competitions all over India not just to win prizes but to win hearts by sharing our bond together on and off stage.
