Event Description (About 250 Words): PPOC, Hansraj College organized a live webinar titled “How to Build a Career in Public Policy” to guide students and young professionals interested in understanding opportunities within the public policy domain. The session featured Vishakha Deshwal as the keynote speaker, who shared her insights and experiences in navigating a career path in this evolving and interdisciplinary field.

The webinar aimed to provide participants with a comprehensive overview of what public policy entails, the skills required to excel in the sector, and the diverse professional avenues available, including roles in government institutions, think tanks, consulting firms, research organizations, and non-profits. The speaker emphasized the importance of analytical thinking, research capabilities, communication skills, and practical exposure through internships and projects.

Attendees gained clarity on academic pathways, including relevant undergraduate and postgraduate programs, certifications, and fellowships that can strengthen one’s profile for a career in public policy. The session also highlighted the value of networking, staying updated with current affairs, and actively participating in policy discussions, workshops, and simulations to build practical understanding.

An interactive question-and-answer segment allowed participants to engage directly with the speaker, addressing their individual concerns regarding career choices, required competencies, and industry expectations. Overall, the webinar served as an informative
