Event Description

On October 22, 2024, Botanique – The Botanical Society of Hansraj College hosted its annual Diwali event, SRUJAN, a celebration of creativity and artistry. The event featured two main competitions: Roshan Rachna — an eco-friendly rangoli-making competition, and a Treasure Hunt in collaboration with Spotify. This event was inaugurated in room A-1 by faculty members of the Department of Botany, students and participants, bringing together a vibrant atmosphere filled with enthusiasm and festive spirit. Prof. Monika Koul, the Teacher-in-Charge of the Department of Botany extended Diwali greetings and encouraged all participants to showcase their creativity and ingenuity. Participants were briefed with the rules for both the competitions. Roshan Rachna - Eco-Friendly Rangoli Making Competition was thereafter conducted in the garden area in front of Botany Lab 3. This challenge encouraged the use of biodegradable materials, including soil, wilted leaves, and flowers, as well as eco-friendly colours, to create stunning designs. The rangolis were evaluated by a distinguished panel of judges, Dr. Sahil Mehta, Dr. Savita Singh, and Dr. Ritu Pandey. The judges appreciated the participants' artistry and eco-consciousness. The Spotify Treasure Hunt commenced with a preliminary round involving a Google form questionnaire designed to select a total of eight teams for the final event. The participants received their first clue in Room A-1. This was followed by a series of clues, where each clue required participants to engage in critical thinking and work collaboratively, embodying the spirit of the treasure hunt. Teams who successfully decoded the series of clues advanced to other designated locations in the college campus till they reached the final rendezvous point near the college Hotsel Gate. The Valedictory Ceremony for prize distribution was held in Room A-1. For Roshan Rachana, Suhani, Priyanjali, and Tanya received the runner-up award; Guddi and Rashmi received the first prize. For Treasure Hunt, Shivam, Om, Nihita, and Saawat, secured the first position while winners, while Ayushman, Anant, Ayush, and Anu, secured the runner-up position. The Treasure Hunt winning team received certificates and exclusive Spotify merchandise, presented amidst cheers and applause from both students and faculty members. The event concluded with a diya-lighting ceremony, symbolising the essence of Diwali. Faculty members gathered around the beautifully crafted rangolis. A group photograph was then taken to commemorate this vibrant celebration of creativity, teamwork, and eco-consciousness. SRUJAN 2024 highlighted the spirit of Diwali, combining artistry with environmental mindfulness and team engagement. It was a memorable event for all, embodying the essence of curiosity, creativity, and collaboration.
