On September 6, 2024, the Department of History held a successful screening of A Tale of Two Cities at the Multipurpose Hall, Library 2nd floor. As the first event of this session, it served as an icebreaker for the fresher's. It also served as the inaugural screening under our new project titled Past to Panels.

The event aimed to help students understand how visual mediums are used to explore historical themes, starting with the adaptation of Charles Dickens' classic novel, A Tale of Two Cities.

Beginning at 1:00 PM with a welcome note from the Vice President of the department, followed by the moderators presenting an overview of the film. As a warm-up, the audience were engaged in a quiz, which was well-received. The movie screening began shortly then. Once the movie concluded, the floor was opened for an engaging discussion session. Students actively participated, which were addressed by the moderators and fellow attendees. The event concluded with a thank you note from Saouhum and closing remarks by Dr. Justin Matthew.

Participants responded positively and throughout the screening, they appeared engaged. The interactive quiz and the post-screening discussion added layers to their understanding. The event effectively blended education with student interaction.
