Description of the Event: A Yuva Roadshow (You Grow Girl) was organised by the Women's Development Cell, Hansraj College, on July 7, 2023, and was joined by renowned entrepreneur and podcaster, Navya Naveli Nanda, Founder, Naveli Project. Which was also joined by Nikhil Taneja, a writer, producer, and storyteller, and Mr. Yash Pise from YUVA. The venue chosen for the interactive session was the college auditorium, which was held there from 11 a.m. to 1 a.m. The aim of the interactive session was to talk about entrepreneurship, self-growth, and social change, which was initiated with an introduction of both speakers along with Navya Naveli Nanda. Where they shared their individual life stories and the journey of their youth organisation, YUVA, which focuses on providing young people with knowledge, resources, and awareness about women's enterprise. During the session, the students had a question-and-answer session, and students asked specific questions about YUVA to the speakers, and they answered every question sincerely, explaining their perspective. The student attending the session was provided the opportunity to present their startup idea to Yuva. Before ending the session, the students were shown a video to create awareness about street harassment, and the presentation taught them the methodology to deal with street harassment in public spaces. After the session, an open mic was conducted where some students shared their life experiences and journeys. The session ended with providing a QR code, which the students were asked to scan and take a five-minute training to act against street harassment explained by YUVA, which was followed by submitting the form. And after submitting the form successfully, a gift hamper from Loreal Paris was sent to the student participants. Altogether, it was an enlightening and empowering session that came to an end at 2 p.m. And this way,
