The History Society, Hansraj College, organized a webinar on the theme of Delhi-Our 1000-year-old city. Prof. Narayani Gupta delivered a talk and engaged in discussion with the participants. She dealt with Delhi's past and enumerated many cities of Delhi. Gupta discussed the mythological city of Indraprastha mentioned in Mahabharat as a living place of Pandavas. She discussed the remains and historicity of other cities of Delhi, such as Lal Kot, Qila-Rai-Pithora, Siri, Tughlqabad, Jahanpanah, Firozabad, the town around Purana Qila, Shahjahanabad, and New Delhi. It was a very healthy interactive session that covered various issues- architectural styles, art forms, reasons behind the shifting and making of these cities, etc. The participants learned about a wide range of associate disciplines of history and were encouraged to explore those as their possible career options in the future. Overall, it was a very successful event.
