Description of the event - Pwd students often go ignored when it comes to co-curricular activities. But EOC has been actively working for this and organising various competitions and learning sessions for PWD candidates. One such competition was organised on 17 January 2023. It was a 'Quiz Competition for Pwd candidates. The competition was organised in the seminar room of Hansraj College. The Competition started with the lamp lightening session. The questions asked were easy to moderate with a bit spice of some complex questions. Overall the questions were designed in a way that not a single participant would go bore. Almost 80 students from various colleges participated in the Competition with full enthusiasm and energy. The judges were invited from different colleges for the event to be non-biased. The event ended smoothly. The winners were provided with cash prizes. The event ended with every attendee and participant getting their refreshments. Overall, it was a total fun filled activity for the participants along with sharpening their brain cells and uplifting their confidence.
