Name of the Department: Pi, Department of Mathematics

Name of the Event: Anant

Date of the Event: 6th January, 2023

Description of the event:

The Department of Mathematics, Hansraj College organized an enlightening paper writing session, 'Anant: A Research pathway to students' led by Prof Preeti Dharmarha, a professor of our own Department on 6 January 2023. The primary aim of organising this lecture was to familiarise students with writing effective research articles. The session intended to guide the young minds in aligning their thoughts and writing them down in a way that is not only interesting but also genuine and logical. The conversation illuminated the significance of research in everyday life.

Prof divided the entire session into a few questions to make it easy for the audience to follow along. She continued to interact with the youngsters, answering their questions one by one. In a research study, she stressed the importance of assumptions, counterexamples, generalisation, and applications. She also briefed us about the ill-effects of plagiarism and how to avoid it while writing a paper. The session was also attended by department faculty members, whose kind attendance made the presentation even more informative. The session was overall quite interactive and well received by the attendees.
