Summary of report (covering modules):

Student learning centre in association with the department of Computer Science, Hansraj College and Indian School Of Ethical Hacking, launched an add on course - Cybersecurity with its first module covering Essentials of CCNA. The course began on August 1st, and concluded on October 20th. It covered all the essentials of networking, to prepare students for upcoming modules. It included topics such as OSI model, subnetting, DNS, DHCP, ACL, NAT etc. The course was not bound by theoretical constraints, every class had a particular session on practical implementation of the topics taught in the class. It was done via Cisco Packet Tracer, which enabled students to grasp the concepts more clearly. Regular quizzes, tests and assignments were given to students which enabled periodic revision. The faculty was highly skilled in the field and was very cooperative. Doubts of students were immediately resolved.

Overall, the course was a huge success, which through all its channel made the program a great initiative
