Report:

The certificate course on Visual Arts featured a diverse range of sessions led by eminent scholars and practitioners, offering participants a comprehensive understanding of art as both a cultural practice and a medium of expression.

Beginning with Prof. Soumik Nandy Majumdar's introduction to visual arts and Ajay Lakhera's exploration of decoding paintings, the course traced the evolution of art through Prof. Sambudha Sen's reflections on art theory and Prof. Parul Dave Mukherji's multidimensional insights into Renaissance art. Prof. Christel Devadawson examined colonial visuality and contemporary children's literature, while Prof. Majumdar returned to highlight key Western art movements. Indian perspectives were further enriched through Prof. Shukla Sawant's discussion on Indian modernists and Dr. Samindranath Majumdar's analysis of Tagore's artistic journey. Contemporary discourses were addressed in Dr. Sandip Luis's critique of global art curation from the Global South and Prof. N.A. Jacob's study of ekphrasis. Sessions by Prof. Anjana Sharma and Samara Rehman on landscape art, Prof. Indrapramit Roy's myth-busting approach to art, and Dr. Sanchita Khurana's exploration of graffiti as outsider art deepened participants' appreciation of art's historical, theoretical, and socio-political dimensions.

Together, these sessions emphasized the interplay between art, history, culture, and identity, leaving participants with enriched perspectives on the many layers of visual expression

NAAC ACCREDITED 'A++' GRADE COLLEGE

This 32-hour certificate course is designed for undergraduate and postgraduate students of humanities and social sciences. It draws upon the expertise of scholars and practitioners in visual arts and literature from across the nation aiming to:

- Define visual arts as a distinct domain of inquiry within humanities and social sciences.
- Examine literature and visual arts as interconnected fields of study, considering how art history has profoundly influenced literary history across various genres.
- Trace key movements in art history and explore their linkages with historical developments.
- Equip participants with the grammar and vocabulary of art appreciation, such as line, colour, and depth of field.
- Engage with a range of theoretical frameworks in art history and criticism.
- Demonstrate how visual arts research impacts not only academia but also public art programs, gallery exhibitions, and art education.
- Introduce participants to emerging research trajectories in South Asian visual arts.
- Identify challenges faced by researchers using digital archives and suggest strategies to navigate these issues.

Through intensive two hour lectures, scholars will focus on four major modules, namely the critical vocabulary of art appreciation; art theory and criticism; intersections of art and literature; research possibilities in visual arts. This comprehensive 32 hour online course will serve as a launch pad for students interested in practice and research in this field.
