

PARENTS' FEEDBACK REPORT (2020-21)

Parents' feedback was collected on several parameters on a five-point Likert scale and the report is very encouraging. 44 percent of the parents strongly believed that the college environment is conducive to the processes of teaching and learning. In addition, half the parents have also reported a significant development of their ward's overall personality since joining college. Three fourths of the parents believe that Hansraj College has facilitated the desire for self-study and in their wards and that, their wards have developed an orientation towards genuine research. To add to that, majority parents agree that the college has a satisfactory system of monitoring students' progress and that it succeeds in providing value based education. More than 80 percent of parents believe that the college promotes logical and critical thinking and it has adequate provisions to enhance technical knowledge and communication skills. A large majority of parents have also given a very good assessment of the learning resources provided by the college, including facilities like internet access, library resources and availability of computers. We, at Hansraj College are happy to report that 80% of parents have assessed the discipline practices implemented in college as highly adequate. Close to 90% of parents, also experience a sense of pride when their child graduates from Hansraj College.
