Inaugural Address:

The inaugural address was delivered by Mr. Suyash Kumar, setting the stage for an insightful webinar on the occasion of National Pollution Control Day. Mr. Suyash Kumar provided an opening overview, emphasizing the importance of the event in raising awareness about pollution and the need for innovative solutions.

Dr. Ambika, the convener of IIC-HRC, DU, added valuable context by highlighting the significance of the day and the collective responsibility we bear in combating environmental challenges.

Introduction of the Speaker:

Dr. Ambika introduced Prof. Anindita Roy Saha. Prof. Saha is a distinguished Professor at the Department of Economics and Coordinator of the Centre for Earth Studies at Indraprastha College for Women, University of Delhi. Her vast experience includes associations with several prestigious institutions, including Jawaharlal Nehru University, Ambedkar University Delhi, Nalanda University, Indira Gandhi National Open University, and Amity University.

Prof. Saha's academic journey began at Jadavpur University, Kolkata, where she completed her Bachelor's degree. She later pursued her Master's and Ph.D. degrees from Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. Her expertise lies in Climate Change, Energy, Environment, and Resource Economics. Prof. Saha has made significant contributions to research, with her work being published in reputed international and national journals. She has also authored a book titled 'Sustainable Development Insights from India,' published in 2021.

Currently engaged in a research project on migration impacts of climate change in South Asia, awarded by the Indian Council of Social Science Research, Prof. Saha is a life member of the Indian Economic Association and the Indian Society for Ecological Economics.
